

Transcendental Sun Vibrational Healing

Robert A. Raleigh

Founder, Director, Remote-Healing Specialist

The Transcendental Sun healing modalities enable one to gracefully overcome many of the primary difficulties of the human condition—suffering, disease, and limitation. Whatever is targeted by the work is transcended or released by the recipient, via the work’s unique transcendence component.

The advantage of the Transcendental Sun work is its ability to address and clear all causes. The work’s remotely-communicated conveyances are precise, standardized, elegant, and side-effect free.

Regardless of the disturbance being addressed, this work progressively and smoothly reduces the difficulties and limitations one has manifested in this life.

The Primary Modalities

Conflict Shock Resolution – This modality helps one resolve “biological conflict shocks”—acute traumas, triggered by intense, unexpected psychic shock-events. These shocks are the proximate causes of most diseases,¹ which are not meaningless mistakes of nature that should be fought but are the body’s means of coping with biological conflicts until they are resolved.

Becoming Fully Human: Life’s Purpose – This modality helps one relinquish the neurotic tendencies acquired between birth and early adulthood. This allows one to become fully functional in and responsible for the areas of work/money, relationship/sex, and sustenance/food. This modality increases one’s capabilities for acceptance, enjoyment/satisfaction, love, inner stillness, being in the moment, and being oneself. It is also used to resolve birth trauma, “spiritual emergencies,” and “character armoring.”

Miasm Therapy – Miasms are ancestrally-generated predispositions to chronic disease and suffering, which are embedded in our energetic fabric; they exist independent of and within living systems. They are the underlying causes of the true chronic diseases, those not caused by toxins. Miasms play a primary role in shaping behavior patterns and temperament; anatomy and physiology; and underlie the various life scenarios we tend to create and recreate.

By neutralizing these obfuscating, disease-making influences, Miasm Therapy returns vitality, restores psycho-biological homeostasis, ensures autonomy and integrity to the mind, and prevents future disease and misery.

Even the best diet, most robust constitution, and healthiest lifestyle are not enough to rectify the chronic disorder engendered by miasms.

¹ Those not caused by poisoning, other major stressors, and some nutritional deficiencies.

Overcoming One's Fate – A “fate” is defined herein as a slow-moving, often lengthy period of personal adversity that is brought upon oneself via sustained repetition of actions that are out of alignment with natural/Cosmic law.

Fates are frequently painful, frustrating, confusing, disorienting, and frightening. Their purpose is to force us to relinquish certain false ideas and beliefs, and reduce us to an attitude of openness and humility, in order to free the hold of ego.

Rectifying a fate is a deep process of letting go. Therefore, attempts to overcome it by force of will cannot succeed. Transcendence is the deepest form of letting go/releasing/moving beyond.

By removing the unconscious, unresolved, foundational elements causing one's fate, this modality progressively reduces the conditions and limitations manifesting as fate, while at the same time greatly reducing the time required to move through and overcome it.

Robert Raleigh – The three most significant influences on his work have been his involvement with esoteric spiritual teachings, which began at age seventeen; recognition and development of his remote-healing capabilities; and the development of the transcendence component of his work.

His early healing practice and teaching included herbal medicine, nutritional counseling, Postural Integration (a neo-Reichian form of bodywork that also aligns structure), flower essences, medical radiesthesia, and cranial balancing.

In the early 1980's, he trained with and was greatly influenced by Dr. Moshe Feldenkrais. During that same period, he developed his first major body of work, The Transformation Lessons, a psycho-spiritual form of Feldenkrais work, which he taught for twenty years.

After years of refining his remote healing approach, Mr. Raleigh developed the Transcendental Sun Vibrational Healing modalities, and, most recently, a system of self-healing known as Precision Language Healing, which targets the entire spectrum of healing and transformational needs. Currently, Robert lives and works in Las Cruces, New Mexico.

“After [the first session] things started to shift and I found myself in a different place with my work and felt that a level of stagnation had been released at all levels. . . . This is deep, powerful and important work.”—Wendy Lang, Master of Medical Qigong, Founder of Empty Mountain Institute, Mill Valley, California

“After recovering from a bronchial infection, I was left with a severe and persistent hearing loss. Robert's work brought my hearing back to normal after two days.”—Jerri Jo Idarius, Alternative Health Practitioner, California

“That [last] conveyance completely changed me for the good...holy cow!!! This work is truly transcendent. I literally cannot hold on to a worry.”—Anne Sagendorph-Moon, Beyond Business as Usual, Oakland, California
